DAILY REPUBLICAN.

TUESDAY EVE., FEB. 28, 1893.

It is now pretty safe to say the world's fair will not be open Sunday.

It is about time to inquire what has become of Springer's bill to change the method of choosing electors and forming the electoral college?

The Texas legislature has under consideration a bill to legalize a lynching.

The reader should not forget that Texas gives over one hundred thousand Democratic plurality.

William J. Warren, of Cleveland, O., congressman-elect, used to peddle chewing gum on the streets, and subsequently became wealthy in the manufacture.

It is not stated what brand he manufactured now how he produced the foreign dainties with Ohio materials.

Both the Leland Stanford University and the Chicago University are claiming that President Harrison will be connected with it in the near future.

It is not at all discreditable to the President that he is in demand for political positions where brains and good sense is the chief requirement.

Since the Supreme court of Kansas has decided that the Republican house is the legal body, the resolution passed by the Legislature removing the capital from Topeka to Kansas will not count.

The movement in this case is something akin to the movement of the tick made in a circus. The head seems to be on the wrong end.

It has been reported that Walker, through whom Gov. McKinley has been so badly worried financially, carried for the benefit of McKinley a one hundred thousand dollar twenty-year Toronto policy which has but four months to run, worth $60,000 at the present time.

The president of the company, however, disavows this pleasant little story by saying that his company has issued no such policy.

The Democrats are afraid to permit the ratification of the Hawaiian treaty under the present administration lest it might add something to the already brilliant foreign policy of President Harrison.

What glory the Democrats can get out of this position of this treaty, which has practically been accomplished by Harrison and only needs the ratification of the senate to complete it, is a little hard to see.

It may, however, fairly be taken as a sign that the Democrats expect to run the next administration for glory on a mighty small track.

It is most remarkable, yet true, that the Democratic hicker, like a balky horse is attracting the most attention. Thus, at the present writing, is being demonstrated in a great degree among the Chicago Democracy in the contest for the majority nomination. Two years ago Carter Harrison bolted the Democratic nomination for Mayor and became an independent candidate, thus defeating the regular nominee at the polls, and securing the election of a Republican.

Great were the numbers poured out upon Harrison for his course. He was pronounced dead and buried as the result of his rebellion. But in spite of all that he is still a Democrat, and again a candidate for the nomination for Mayor.

The success he is having in the primaries shows that his kick two years ago has not only popularized him, but will probably result in his nomination. Mr. W. H. Heising, who claims to have delivered to Cleveland and Alameda the vote that carried Illinois over to the Democrats last fall, and who is seeking the nomination for Mayor of Chicago, as a reward for his labors, and who had reason to expect that he would be recorded his wish is about to be trodden under the feet of the Republican.

Richard Cobden, who was in the free traders of Great Britain what Gov. McKinley has been to the protectionists of the United States, was a man of remarkable business ability. Beginning with nothing at all, he placed himself in possession of an annual income estimated at $400,000 before he had reached his 50th year. But as soon as he was ready to retire from public life he was to be met by a millionaires who had made millions during the period of remarkable, though but temporary, prosperity that followed the adoption of his policy of free trade to contribute and present him with the noble sum of $400,000. It was upon the interest of this that he lived during the last 25 years of his life.

Gov. McKinley's business ability is not impeached by recent events. Cobden came to the time and mind to the advancement of what in his day was "the English idea" of political economy, and what, as we believe, still is and ever will be the American idea. In such cases this devotion to what appeared to be the public well led to shipwreck of a private fortune. In Cobden's case the British people insisted that no such disaster should cause his withdrawal from public life. In McKinley's case we believe that the American people will refuse to admit his retirement from the public service.

GOING TO CHICAGO.

Bishop Foster Says Rev. James Miller May Leave the Illinois Conference.

The other day the Reverend announced that in all probability Rev. James Miller, president of the Decatur district, and for five years pastor of the First M. E. church, this city, would leave Decatur and become the pastor of a large and wealthy Methodist congregation on the West Side, in Chicago. All that has been looking to complete the change has been the consent of the transfer of Rev. Miller to the Rock River Conference. Today Rev. Miller received a telegram stating that Bishop Foster had given his consent. This removes all doubt that may have existed, and in a few days all arrangements for the change will be completed. During the past three months the members of the Chicago congregation have been in contact with Rev. Miller and it is at their earnest solicitation that the minister has decided to sever his long connection with the Illinois Conference and go into the new conference among strange churches and people strangers to him. Rev. Miller has been in charge of a church at Decatur or Springfield, it is doubtful if he would have been persuaded to go to Chicago. He finds that the duties of presiding officer are not agreeable to him, and that feeling largely induced him to favorably consider the offer extended. Rev. Miller will take charge of the Methodist church on the West Side in Chicago. It has a membership of about 500, and is in the residence portion of that part of the city. At present the church has no house of worship. The West Side elevated railroad ran through the property and the church had to be taken down. It is not the large road company $40,000, and that must be now in a Chicago bank to the credit of the church. It will be Rev. Miller's first work to direct the construction of a new edifice and parsonage. It will cost over $100,000, and will be located at the corner of Congress and Lincoln streets, near Union Park.

KILLED TWENTY-TWO PEOPLE.

Such is the Record of a Chicago and Erie Engineer.

Lafayette Truman, an engineer on the Chicago and Erie road, was in a young man, twenty-two years of age, a steady, industrious man, and in no single instance was he blamed. On the contrary he possesses remarkable presence of mind and has displayed this power on many occasions. Most of these killings occurred at crossings and in every case he was entirely exonerated. He has also saved hundreds of lives. In 1880 he was driving his train at the rate of 60 miles an hour through a burning forest near Lima, Ohio. The train seemed to be flying through a sea of sparks and fire from the burning trees on either side of the track. He was passing a bridge which spanned a river when he suddenly saw immediately in front a shower of sparks fly upward. It dashed over his mind that the bridge was on fire and the burning results of the falling of burning timbers. He reversed his engine and brought to a stop at the edge of the river. He was right. The bridge had burned and his presence of mind saved 300 passengers. On another occasion near the same place the rods on each side of the engine broke, ran up through the cab and instantly killed the engineer. Truman jumped on the tender and there, though safe for the present, was isolated and could not control his engine. He could not reach the cab for fear the train would be unable to stop. He got out his pocket-knife and cut the hose, thereby applying the automatic brake, and succeeded in stopping the train and saving the lives of the passengers. The engine had been running for which he is not to blame, Truman has saved the lives of hundreds. There is little said of the lives saved by discreet engineers, but often too much is said about those who lose their lives by their own carelessness or through ignorance and through no fault of the engineer.

THE JUDGE IS AFTER IT.

Assistant Attorney General Pays $5,000 a Year.

It has been quietly rumored that Hon.
W. E. Nelson, the present county judge of Macon county, whose term of office will expire in 1894, is in the field as a candidate for appointment as United States assistant attorney general in the Department of Justice. The position, if he gets it, will pay him $5,000 a year, and will be quite a lift for the gentleman.
The judge will have an annual of substantial endorsements to carry to Washington when the Democrats get into the saddle with Grover to crack the whip.
There will be no lack of valuable influence in Chicago, the big town which caused Illinois to flop to Cleveland.
Theodore Nelson, secretary of the State Democratic Central committee, and deputy recorder for Cook county under B-oorner Sam Chase, drawing a salary of $5,000 himself, will see that the judge, his father, has a proper show in his fight for assistant secretary general.

Judge Nelson's many Decatur friends, regardless of party affiliations, wish him success in his efforts. In the Department of Justice there are five assistant attorney generals to be appointed. Illinois ought to have one of the assistants, and at this distance it looks like Judge Nelson will capture the place.

A BENEVOLENT.

Dr. W. O. Blaisdell of Macomb is entitled to the thanks of Illinois sportsmen for his efforts to introduce new game birds into this part of the world. Some time ago he secured several black partridges from India through an agent and who is a consul at Karachi. The bird is said to be a most valuable bird to the sportsman, and is multiplying satisfactorily in the western part of the state. The doctor has also learned that another bird of the same family, having its natural habitat in India, is larger, hardier and more than the one already introduced, and he has a consignment of them on the way to Illinois. It is known as the Chukar partridge, and flourishes in a changeable climate. A man who goes to so much trouble and expense to add to the food birds of the state is certainly a public benefactor.

Installation Ceremonies.

The ceremonies attending the installation of the newly elected officers of Decatur Division No. 86, Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, will be publicly observed at Guard's Armory to-night between 7:30 and 8 o'clock. Dr. A. Frazer, of Springfield, will be present to conduct the exercises and officially inspect the rank. All friends of the Division are invited to be present. Capt. A. T.
Grist will retire to-night as commander.
He will be succeeded by Capt. C. O.
Stoddard.

After the public ceremonies the Sir

Knights, their ladies and invited guests will repair to the hall of Omer de Leon Lodge, where an elegant banquet will be served.

"Bob" Ferguson for Assessor.

In another column appears the announcement of Robert W. Ferguson as a candidate for Assessor, subject to the decision of the Republican township convention. "Bob" needs no introduction to the people of the city or township.
Everybody knows him, or has heard of him. He is a hustler, and at present is a member of the city council from the Fifth ward. He is a good judge of value, having for many years assisted in making the township assessment. Bob has hundreds of personal friends who will give him enthusiastic support, and he will go into the convention with many supporters. Bob would make a good assessor.

For Constable.

Wesley H. Jimison has announced himself as a candidate for Constable subject to the action of the Republican township convention. He has been a resident of Decatur township for 27 years and will be supported by many friends, regardless of party affiliation. Mr.
Jimison has many friends and is well-known to the voters of Decatur township, and if nominated and elected, will make an efficient officer.

Capital $5,000.

During the recent state poultry show at Guard's Armory the REV. J. M. B. stated that in the near future Decatur would have a journal devoted exclusively to poultry interests. Yesterday the secretary of state issued a certificate of incorporation for the Poultry Topics Publishing Company of this city; capital, $5,000. Incorporators—Fred H. Pettis, Mrs. Rhoda A. Judy and Grant M.
Curtis.

State Encampment.

The twenty-seventh annual department encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in Springfield, Ill., March 16 and 17, 1893. There will undoubtedly be a large gathering of old soldiers from different parts of the state at the capital city on this occasion, and many distinguished veterans from other states are expected to be in attendance, and a general good time is anticipated.

Death of Mrs. Ormsby.

Last week Mrs. Helen L. Ormsby died at 4446 Champlain Ave in Chicago, in the 76 year of her age. The deceased will be remembered by many Decatur people. She resided in this city from 1876 to 1879 in a dwelling on North College street. She was the mother of Dr.
Ormsby, a young man who had scores of friends in this city. He died about a year ago in Chicago.

Emmett.

J. K. Emmett, otherwise the jolly
"Fritz," at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday evening, March 1, is to be one of the best judges of thoroughbred horses in the country. He owns the celebrated bull terrier in the world, and paid a thousand dollars for it. He has several dogs of the same expensive sort.

LIFE AT PHOENIX, ARIZONA.

Some Interesting Points Gleaned from a Letter from A. H.
Barber.

A. H. Barber, who recently went to Phoenix, Arizona, to reside, has been secretary of the Orange Belt Land and Canal company. In a letter of recent date to a friend, he writes:
"This is surely a land of sunshine, as it has been warm and bright every day since I have been here. It has not rained since last February and you may know that it is very dry and dusty. All of the spring vegetables are in market and a great many flowers and trees are in bloom. Phoenix is a bustling town of 8,000 inhabitants, and is full of business.
The city has a great many Mexicans, Chinamen and Indians in it, but all seem to get along together very well. Until recently there was but one policeman and he was the town marshal. A few days ago the council met and appointed a night policeman, making two policemen for 8,000 inhabitants. There are no disturbances scarcely at all. It is perfectly safe on the streets at night for anyone without being armed. The Mexicans are a dirty, greasy looking set, and they are as can be. Some make their living by cutting and selling mescal brush, which is used principally for fuel.
Other work on ranches, some are day laborers on the streets, but the great majority do nothing. They live in adobe houses, which are made from sand and clay and laid up like bricks, though they are very frail and sometimes fall with a bang. A tribe of Indians called the "Maricopas" live over the river a few miles and they come in here during the day for supplies. They are bare headed with long streaming black hair, matted together, (never combed). They go bare bodied and the men wear a shirt and pants and sometimes a coat and vest.
The women are a little more fortunate, they wear a black and white Mother Hubbard dress, and are in their glory when wearing a flaming red or blue shawl. They are friendly toward the whites and would not think of harming you, but let an Apache stick in a word and they will fight in a minute. They have an Indian policeman that looks after them and sees that they are on the reservation at a certain time. Have been out in the country for a drive several times and there are some nice fruit ranches. This is a great fruit country and nearly all the tropical fruits are raised. The mountains are all around us which makes us live in a valley. The water of irrigation is a great thing in this country, and there are a great many ditches to supply water."

Comedy To-night.

"Miss Helyett," to be performed at the Opera House to-night, includes varied comedy of amusement and heretofore combined. It is a curious combination of bright music, witty lines, ridiculous situations and artistic dancing. It shows what a clever American playwright (David Belasco), with the assistance of clever American comedians and singers, can do to make proper in hyponormal original.
There is much solid truth in the funny off-hand aphorisms quoted by the Quaker father from his book of proverbial philosophy. There is some of the brightest music of Andran, quite up to the level of his best melodies in "Olivette," "The Mascotte" and "La Cigale." In "Miss Helyett" are combined opera, comedy, burlesque and vaudeville. It comes with the remarkable record of one hundred and fifty nights in New York, sixty in Boston, fifty in Philadelphia and a ten weeks' summer run in Chicago. Mrs.
Lottie Carter, whose grace, beauty and talent have made her so widely famous in her original character of the Quaker girl will be assisted by a splendid company of singers and comedians. Incidental to the serious act that much disguised and accepted little woman, Miss Lottie Carter, will introduce her original creation; "Fa-ra-ra-Bou-de-ay." She has depicted all over the country the amazing sensation she created in London.

Received with Enthusiasm.

Dr. H. H. Oneal has returned from Florida, where, under the auspices of the Slayton Lyceum Bureau, he delivered his series of lectures on the French Revolution. The people at Decatur were carried away with the lecture. The Bureau said:

The program for this year is of the highest order. Every day is filled with the best of lectures. These already have produced a wonderful impression.
The lecture on the French Revolution by Rev. Oneal was one of the finest things ever delivered in the auditorium. Mr.
Oneal is a man of the highest caliber, careful in his grouping of the facts, beautiful in its diction, and most impres-sively delivered. At the close men rose to their feet and extended called upon the speaker to be seated. The air was full of waving handkerchiefs. It was a signal triumph. Dr. Davidson, the superintendent, said the production was worthy to be placed on the bookshelves alongside of Carlyle's French Revolution.

art. They comprise a scene of some thirty miles, showing the humble home the lovely lakes of Killarney in Ireland,

JACK McLAULIFF.

The Prize Fighter Saves the Lives of Two Women.

It is generally supposed there is little of the milk of human kindness in the make-up of a prize fighter. They are regarded by society as possessing calculated consciences and being entirely devoid of the power of exercising sympathy—brutes in fact. Jack McAuliffe, the prize fighter, who has frequently been in Decatur, had an opportunity yesterday morning in St. Louis to disprove the correctness of this notion and he did it.
He and a number of friends were sitting in a room in conversation when the cry of fire started the party. They jumped up and rushed into the street where they discovered that a building was on fire.
At the second story they saw two women crying for help. Jack ran across to the building, upset an Italian fruit stand and put it upon end under the window.
Mounting it he found he was too short to reach the imperiled women. He got down and put up a tall man who could reach them, while he steadied the stand.
There were other people in the third story, and as soon as the man on the ladder had raised Jack tried to mount the ladder but the man would not allow him to go. The window from which the women were rescued was about 20 feet from the pavement. One of the women was very heavy and in taking her down she fell and was hurt.
This must be put to Jack's credit.

New Corps at Chestnut.

ENDS. BUREAU: We recently received detail to proceed to Chestnut, La-co, subject, and address Post 725, G. A.
R. subject, "The W. R. O. Its Benefits to the G. A. R." We found a wide-awake Post, commanded by John O.
Dannellay, an able leader, as the fine hall, erected by the united efforts of the comrades tented. This hall will in time revert to the Sons of Veterans, who are about to organize there in large numbers. We were charmingly entertained by Commander Dannellay and Quartermaster Humphreys' families, and announced in forming an Auxiliary to the G. A. R. at Chestnut, La. We Chas. Moore Post No. 725, G. A. R., what we are sure will prove one of the most earnest working Relief Corps in the Illinois Department. Application for a charter and cash order for supplies were immediately forwarded to Cairo headquarters, and thus another W. R. O. will soon be instituted under the administration of our old station, President, Sarah E. Hanson, who has created an unprecedented interest through all departments as well as our own state, and her introduction of new life and earnest work. The wonderful growth of the W.
R. O. and its good works in 1892-'93 bear witness.

Bishop Foster Says Rev. James Miller May Leave the Illinois Conference.

The other day the REPUBLICAN announced that in all probability Rev. James Miller, presiding elder of the Decatur district, and for five years pastor of the First M. E. church, this city, would leave Decatur and become the pastor of a large and wealthy Methodist congregation on the West Side, in Chicago. All that has been looking to complete the change has been the consent of Bishop Foster, of the Illinois Conference, for the transfer of Rev. Miller to the Rock River Conference. To-day Rev. Miller received a telegram stating that Bishop Foster had given his consent. This removes all doubt that he may leave Decatur and in a few days all arrangements for the change will be completed. During the past three months the members of the Chicago congregation have been conferring with Rev. Miller and it is at their earnest solicitation that the minister has decided to sever his long connection with the Illinois Conference and go into the new conference among strange preachers and people strangers to him. Had Rev. Miller been in charge of a church at Decatur or Springfield, it is doubtful if he could have been persuaded to go to Chicago. He finds that the duties of presiding elder are not agreeable to him, and this feeling largely induced him to favorably consider the offer extended.

Rev. Miller will take charge of the Methodist Avenue church on the West Side in Chicago. It has a membership of about 500, and is in the residence portion of that part of the big city. At present the church has no house of worship. The West Side elevated railroad ran through the property and the church had to be taken down. It cost the railroad company $40,000, and that sum is now in a Chicago bank to the credit of the church. It will be Rev. Miller's first work to direct the construction of a new edifice and paragonage. It will cost over $100,000, and will be located at the corner of Congress and Lincoln streets, near Union Park.

In the course of a week or ten days Rev. Miller will enter upon his duties as pastor of the charge. The amount of the salary is not known, but it is much more than is received by any minister in the Illinois conference.

Rev. C. G. Gibson, pastor of the Vermont Street church, Quincy, has been appointed presiding elder for the Decatur District to succeed Rev. Miller. He will probably arrive in Decatur to-morrow to confer with the retiring elder. A Chicago minister will succeed Rev. Gibson at Quincy.

The many friends of Rev. Miller, in and out of the church, will be pleased to learn that he has been called to take charge of one of the leading churches in the big city of Chicago. He has been in the Illinois Conference for a period of twenty years. In that time he has had charge of many of the best churches in the conference. He is a power in the pulpit. No other minister who has ever preached in Decatur has excelled him in the wide range of theology nor in force of logic. To hundreds Rev. Miller is regarded as one of the deepest thinkers and strongest preachers in the west. Chicago's gain is Decatur's loss. All will join the REPUBLICAN in wishing Rev. Miller every success and wide influence in his new and larger field of work.

Star Course Entertainment.

The fifth and last entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. Star Lecture Course was given at the Grand last night. Despite the rain the hall was well filled. The attraction was the Bernhard Lestmann Concert Club of Boston, assisted by Miss Nannie Hands, vocalist. To the highly cultivated music and the classical programs so perfectly executed was a superb treat, while to every body the well known tenor and pianist, Solo numbers were by Lestmann, violinist; Ra. quoy, flute; Gies, violinello; Bonaventura, clarinet. Encores were enthusiastic.

C. B. Turner, on behalf of the association, thanked the public for the patronage extended the Star Course venture, and promised a more liberal line of attractions for the next season.

Contracts Accepted.

The contract of J. A. Cochran to take possession of the county poor farm and the poor house, for one year, has been accepted, and to-morrow Steward Cochran will succeed Mr. Magee, who will move to Decatur. Mr. Cochran will be allowed $250 a week to be paid for the services of one assistant in the house work. Steward Cochran will receive $850, and the use of all the horses and farming utensils.

Dr. Robert Tobey's contract as county physician, has also been accepted. His salary is $500. He is to visit the poor farm and county jail at least once each week, and is to answer all calls for services by paupers.

James Spargur Hurt.

James Spargur, driver for the Shell-burger Mill & Elevator company, while delivering flour in the northeast part of the city yesterday afternoon, met with an accident at the Sangamon street crossing of the Wabash which will lay him up for some time. A train struck his wagon and knocked it into kindling wood and threw Spargur to the ground. He was picked up unconscious and taken to his home on Chicago street, where Dr. Cass Chenoweth was summoned. Dr. Cass Chenoweth was summoned. The injury was quite seriously injured. The injury was on his head, and it is thought his skull is cracked.

Mr. Hane is a pleasant, affable gentleman, and is well qualified for the position he seeks, and as a result of these statements he becomes a candidate upon the solicitation of warm personal friends who want him to have the office. Mr. Hane resides at 1873 North Water street. He was a member of Company A, 7th Illinois Infantry, and was twice severely wounded, and as a result of these injuries was compelled to submit to the loss of his right leg, which was amputated at the hip. While he does not urge this fact as a reason why he should be nominated, to every fair-minded man, all other things being equal, it ought to count in his favor in proportion to the degree in which it is a misfortune. Mr. Hane has always been a staunch Republican and has not before this been a candidate for any office; but it is safe to say that in case he is nominated, he will prove a splendid candidate before the people. He is a member of Danham Post No. 141, G. A. R.

Out for Constable.

To-day John M. Poor, well-known produce dealer of the Fifth ward, comes before the public as a candidate for Constable, and will go before the Republican convention, and will acquiesce in the decision of the delegates whatever it may be. Mr. Poor is a deserving citizen, and a thorough-bred Republican who has been active in the ranks for the success of the party during the past eight years. Mr. Poor if nominated would be successful at the polls, and he would make a first-class constable.

Joe Murphy for Constable.

Joseph M. Murphy is in the race for constable, subject to the action of the Republican convention. Joe is at present officiating as deputy sheriff and circuit court bailiff. He is thoroughly familiar with the duties of constable, and being young and active, and a man of good habits, prompt and reliable, he would fill the position with general acceptability. Joe will not only be strong with the delegates in the convention, but if nominated will be triumphantly elected.

A Candidate.

Osbo Williams, who is a carpenter by occupation, and has been serving for the present term of courts as bailiff, is out for the office of constable, and will abide by the decision of the Republican convention. Osbo would make a good constable. He is a straight Republican, and has many friends who would be pleased to see him secure the nomination and the office. He is well liked by the legal profession and people generally.

Such is the Record of a Chicago and Erie Engineer.

Lafayette Truman, an engineer on the Chicago and Erie road, who is yet a young man, has run down and killed twenty-two people, and in no single instance was to blame. On the contrary he possesses remarkable presence of mind and has displayed this power on many occasions. Most of these killings occurred at crossings and in every case he was entirely exonerated. He has also saved hundreds of lives. In 1880 he was driving his train at the rate of 60 miles an hour through a burning forest near Lima, Ohio. The train seemed to be flying through a sea of sparks and fire from the burning trees on either side of the track. He was nearing a bridge which spanned a river when he suddenly saw immediately in front a shower of sparks fly upward. It flashed over his mind that the bridge was on fire and the sparks were the result of the falling of burning timbers. He reversed his engine and brought it to a stop at the edge of the river. He was right. The bridge had burned and his presence of mind saved 300 passengers. On another occasion near the same place the rods on each side of the engine broke, ran up through the cab and instantly killed the fireman. Truman jumped on the tender and there, though safe for the present, was isolated and could not control his engine. He could not reach the cab for the broken rods were badly beating the space in the cab. He could not reach the air-brakes, but he did a thing that few engineers would have thought of doing. He got out his pocket-knife and cut the hose, thereby applying the automatic brake, and saving the lives of the passengers. Though he has killed 22 people, for which he is not to blame, Truman has saved the lives of hundreds. There is little said of the lives saved by discreet engineers, but often too much is said about those who lose their lives by their carelessness or through ignorance, and through no fault of the engineer.

A Poor Way to Contest a Will.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Sara B. Foster, attorney for the Grand Trunk railway, was seriously assaulted with a heavy whip yesterday at the entrance of the company building, by Phillip C. Wood. The affair grew out of litigation over the estate of Alonzo C. Wood, of whom will Foster is one of the executors. The estate amounts to $100,000, and the quarrel is the interest of that sum to P. C. Wood and his brother, Edward Wood, of Texas, the principal being held in trust for their children. The will, which was contested, provided for the will, and it is said that the contest was Foster's resignation as trustee.
